Experimental protocol and the priming module

[English translation, original version in Czech]

1 Experimental protocol – Help-or-Harm task

Now there will be a different activity. In contrast to traditional survey questions, you are to make several decisions that may have real consequences on the financial reward received by someone else. We will ask you whether you want to increase or decrease the reward of several people. Each of them is a different person, and none of them participated in this survey. After this survey, we will randomly select thirty participants and select one of their decisions that will determine the reward for someone else. Please make your decisions carefully, because each of your decisions may play a role.

Now please make a decision for each of the persons listed below. If you decide not to change their reward, they will receive CZK 100. But you can decide to increase or decrease their reward to any amount between CZK 0 and CZK 200. Please use the slider to determine the reward for each of these individuals.

[Decision-making environment displayed in Supplementary Fig. 1 was displayed on a separate screen for each of the following 17 people]

- A person living in your region
- A person living in another region in the Czech Republic
- A person living in Prague
- A person whose political opinions are close to yours (i.e., votes for the same political party)
- A person whose political opinions are different from yours (i.e., votes for a party from the opposite side of the political spectrum)
- A person who identifies as a member of the majority population in the Czech Republic
- A person who identifies as a member of the Roma ethnic minority
- A person living in the Czech Republic
- A person who moved to the Czech Republic in the last five years
- A person living in the EU
- A person living in the USA
- A person living in Africa
- A person living in Asia
- A person living in the Czech Republic, with no religious affiliation
